Attempted Suicide.

How She Took Corrosive Sublimate.

There are various ways of getting out of this troublesome world, and some of those who shuffle off the mortal coil, with a view of making their exit from this sphere the world of their hands, adopt novel expedients. Take the case of the San Francisco washerwoman, for instance, who, while reflecting on the ills that she bore in this world, and the grievous burden of the daily struggle for existence, stuck her head in the sands and held it there till she was defunct, passing over the border damp and soapy. A Eureka woman, who had brooded over her toils and tribulations until she was in that unhappy state of mind when suicide seemed to offer her the only relief, made a miserable fiasco, and now lives to still endure, notwithstanding her attempt at self murder. Her husband would stay out at night, play pedro, and otherwise conduct himself in a very undutiful manner, and, to cap the climax of his cruelties, refused to purchase her one of those sweet hats just imported by Myers & Franklin. When he left the residence to go down town and see a man, she determined on death, and took for the purpose a bottle of corrosive sublimate from the closet where the family drugs were kept. Composing herself carefully on the bed, and as gracefully as if she had been a California Theater actress, she drained at one gulp the huge goblet full, dropping the glass to the floor, folded her hands on her breast and calmly awaited death. She had anticipated the most excruciating pain, as the terrible corrosive sublimate should act on her inwards, and marveled greatly to find, instead, a sensation of delicious bliss stealing over her whole system. Her spirit was wonderfully exalted; her vision rose and roamed at will through all the glad memories of her happy past. "I had not dreamed," she said, speaking with difficulty, for her voice was failing fast and her utterance clogged, "I had not dreamed that death was so easy. I would have done it often had I known this. O, death! wherish thy sting? O, grave! wherish thy victory!"

At this juncture her husband entered. "What in darnation are you doing, Mo'ly? What makes your face so red?" "Go'hy, John, goin' die. Taken corrosive sublimate. Forgive yer ever thing."

"Corrosive h-- and d--n, why that's ten dollar brandy that I bought down to Clark & Botto's. I put that label on it so that you wouldn't drop on the contents."

Molly was too far gone to understand the explanation, but when she woke up in the morning with a splitting headache she said that she never realized before how dear John suffered after one of his periodical drunks. The husband now hides his flask behind the family bible, the only place in the house where it is safe from molestation. —Eureka Sentinel.

That Extra Session.

Sometime in October the Carson Appeal published a statement of the condition of our State Treasury, which contained nothing at all remarkable or exciting. In fact, the exhibit mentioned was a signal defeat to the idea that we were to be burdened with coin for which we had not ready use. The Appeal, however, condensed its report a little and thus afforded an opportunity for misinterpretation by those who desired. The Eureka Sentinel, seeing in this misinterpretation another straw-bid for popular favor, figured up a little matter of $500,000 surplus, and called for an extra session to dispose of it. The Reveille accepting the ready made opinion, as usual, copied and endorsed the Sentinel article, and other accurate and provident journals were severely grieved over the wealth of Nevada and the enormous surplus which was rusting in our treasury. Last, and most unreliable of all, came the Enterprise, that large telegraphic paper, and, making the same mistake, treated us to a relash of the old sophistry.

These papers, the Sentinel, Silver State, and Enterprise—the Reveille was not in until the return of its junior editor to Austin—tried to do the people of this State a great wrong, and sought justification in sophistical arguments which have been overthrown. They now want the State put to the expense of an extra session, upon the ground that the State has a surplus of money which will be largely increased. There is not now one dollar of available cash in the State Treasury. The State is now in debt for its current expenses and the General Fund owes at least $100,000 to special funds. The true condition of the Treasury is as follows:

Irreducible School Fund (bonds).....	$314,500
State and Territorial Interest Fund (bonds).....	250,000
Total Bonds.....	564,500
Warrants paid and not returned to State Controller.....	180,000
Cash, coin.....	52,000
currency.....	19,000
Total cash.....	71,000

Every dollar of that $71,000 belongs to the special funds, and hence cannot be used for general purposes. The item of $180,000, warrants not returned, states clearly the fact that the General Fund is at least $100,000 in debt. If the bonanza mines keep up the present rate of production and pay their taxes, a year from next January will elapse before any surplus will be found in the Treasury; and should that production decrease, the present rate of revenue will barely keep the State on a cash basis through 1879. There is now no surplus, nor will there be, unless the bonanzas continue their enormous yield. Then two queries arise. First, would these anxious journals call an extra session to say whether the mines will produce. Second, would we have had even an imaginary surplus had the compromise passed? Now, this is an old subject, and the people have long since decided it in favor of themselves; but such showings are necessary, in order to prove that these compromisers know their false position. The facts stated above are absolutely true, and yet these defeated ones have computed a surplus of $500,000, and called for an extra session, at an expense of $40,000, to disburse it. That extra session will not be called, and we recommend these "friends of the people" to look up something stronger than sheer misstatement for a justification of their false positions. Can they find it?

THE CARSON PROPHECY.—And now comes old Parkie of the Carson Tribune to the front as a prophet. He promulgates the following in his paper of yesterday:

Years hence, when certain leading men of the bonanza mines and of the Banks of California and Nevada and the Virginia & Truckee and Central Pacific Railroads are dead and forgotten, the ore taken from the Comstock mines will be crushed elsewhere than at present, but it will still be done on the banks of the Carson River at the new and populous city known as "Sutro." Not to the Truckee will the mills on the Carson be taken, for the reason that there is a nearer road for ore to travel, to-wit: That wondrous hole in the ground called the Sutro Tunnel.

We are out just six Indians, six squaws and sixty-eight head of Indian horses. The Mexicans took them near the Rio Grande. Let the good work go on.

Another Tailings Dryer.

A Reno Man Comes in with a Machine Which is Expected to Do Good Work.

There is being constructed at the Gold Hill Foundry, says the News, a machine for drying slimes and tailings. The machine is the invention of S. W. Kimble of Reno. It is cylindrical in form and is about twelve feet long and has a shaft passing through it from one end to the other. On this shaft is secured a series of blades which are adjustable and are set spirally around the shaft. At the small end of the cylinder a hopper is set so as to feed in the wet tailings. The shaft is made to revolve by a wire rope and the material is conveyed from one end to the other of the cylinders. Three of these cylinders are to be placed side by side in a furnace so constructed that the flames and heat will pass all around each of them, and as the material is constantly stirred while passing through the cylinder it will be exposed to the heat very thoroughly, and by the time it reaches the opening at the opposite end of the cylinder it will be thoroughly dried. On the top side of the large cylinder there is an opening to which a pipe is attached leading to an exhaust fan, and any fumes of quicksilver which may be given out will be exhausted by this into a condenser. It is anticipated that this machine will give splendid results as it not only dries the slimes and tailings, but will also separate and catch what quicksilver remains in the tailings. Mr. Ira Parke is going to give these machines a trial on some of his tailings at the Railroad mill. The work of constructing this dryer has been under the careful supervision of J. B. Pitchford, who directs all mechanical operations at George Emmet's Gold Hill foundry.

Senator Jones and Secretary Sherman.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Senator Jones called this morning at the Treasury Department, and the following cross fire took place between him and Secretary Sherman:

Secretary.—Well, Jones, I see you are driving ahead with your plans. Do you know that you've got the people across the water very badly scared?

Senator Jones.—Glad to hear it. We scared them in the revolutionary war and again in 1812, and its a pretty good thing to know that we can scare them again. I never did see the sense of letting the bankers and capitalists of Europe tell the people of America how to manage themselves. That's been going on about long enough.

Secretary.—But don't you see, Jones, what a power this will place in the hands of the people—how it will enrich them and hurt the Government?

Senator Jones.—Exactly. As to the first part, they haven't made anything for a godsend! But how is it going to hurt the Government? For every dollar you owe, you can pay in silver, and the money you collect is also receivable for debts.

Secretary.—But you cannot get it in circulation, because the importers will want it to pay their duties with.

Senator.—Well, and what becomes of it then? When silver is paid at the custom house does it become the property of the Collector? If so, I can understand why the people are so crazy for the position. No sir; it is covered at once into the Treasury, and when you get it there you just try and keep it, and see what happens. Don't you know that you have already announced that the revenues are barely enough to meet the current expenses. I would like to know how you can manage to shut up a lot of circulating medium when things are in that condition. You can never do it in the world and you would not care to try the experiment. You will be glad enough to pay it right out as fast as it comes in to avoid any conflict with Congress. No, sir, I am not afraid of that part of the business.

Here the interview ended, both parties realizing that neither could convince the other.

Senator Jones said to-day, afterward, that if he had his way about it, he would favor an amendment looking to a change in the subsidiary coin; as for instance, ordering the secretary, as fast as silver half dollars come in, to send them to the mint to be coined over again and raised to the exact standard of half the silver dollar in weight. They are now a little degraded, and this would make the coinage uniform. He would then limit the legal tender qualities of subsidiary coin from quarters down to one dollar. He says there is great ignorance on the capacities of the mints. They can not, according to Linderman's recent statement, turn out more than thirty million dollars annually, and at that rate it would require from five to ten years to place in circulation as much silver dollar coinage as the country requires. There could not possibly be an overflow of silver dollars, as some people have predicted. He also predicted that when the bill became a law, and the country saw that ruin did not follow as a consequence, the hard money men would be pitching around for explanations of the reason.

The Cattle Business.

Stock Raising in California is Early Times.

The American pioneers of California regarded it as a worthless country for anything except mining purposes. Its claims to agricultural prominence have, at this date, become so remarkable as to need no allusion. As a stock-raising State it might readily be made to surpass Texas or any other portion of the Union. What the early Franciscan Fathers accomplished, mild as their sway was over the slothful Indian population that partially adopted civilized customs, may be judged, in a measure, from the following statistics concerning the former prosperity of the Catholic Missions:

In 1825 the Mission Dolores, at this city, had 76,000 head of cattle, 950 tame horses, 2,000 breeding mares, 84 studs of choice breed, 830 mules, 79,000 sheep, 2,000 hogs, 456 yoke of working oxen, 18,000 bushels of grain, $33,000 worth of merchandise and $25,000 in specie.

In 1823 Santa Clara branded 22,400 calves as the year's increase, and owned 74,280 head of full grown cattle, 407 yoke of working oxen, 82,540 sheep, 1,800 trained horses, 4,235 mares, 725 mules, 1,000 hogs, and $120,000 in goods.

San Jose had, in 1825, 3,000 Indians, 62,000 head of cattle, 840 tame horses, 1,500 mares, 420 mules, 310 yoke of oxen, and 62,000 sheep.

San Juan Bautista, in 1820, owned 43,870 head of cattle, 1,360 tame horses, 4,870 mares, colts and fillies, 69,530 sheep, 321 yoke of working oxen, $75,000 in goods and $20,000 in specie.

In 1825, San Carlos branded 2,300 calves, and had 87,600 head of cattle, 1,800 head of horses and mares, 365 yoke of oxen, 5,400 sheep, much merchandise, and $40,000 in specie.

Santa Cruz, in 1830, had 48,200 head of cattle, 3,200 horses and mares, 72,500 sheep, 200 mules, large herds of swine, and $25,000 worth of silver plate.

Soledad, in 1826, owned 36,000 head of cattle, 300 yoke of oxen, 70,000 sheep, and more horses and mares than any other Mission. So rapidly did its horses increase that they were given away in order to preserve the pastures for cattle and sheep.

In 1822, San Antonio owned 52,800 head of cattle; 1,800 tame horses, 3,000 mares, 500 yoke of working oxen, 600 mules, 45,000 sheep, and 1,000 swine.

San Miguel, in 1821, owned 91,000 head of cattle, 1,100 tame horses, 3,000 mares, 2,000 mules, 170 yoke of working oxen, and 47,000 sheep.

San Fernando, in 1826, owned 56,000 head of cattle, 1,500 horses and mares, 200 mules, 400 yoke of working oxen, 64,000 sheep, 2,000 swine, $50,000 in merchandise, and $90,000 in specie. Its vineyards yielded 4,000 gallons of wine and brandy per annum.

In 1829, San Gabriel had 70,000 head of cattle, 1,200 horses, 3,000 mares, 400 mules, 120 yoke of working oxen, and 54,000 sheep. Its annual income from wine was $12,000.

In 1826, San Luis Rey had 70,000 head of cattle, 2,000 horses, 140 yoke of tame oxen, and 68,000 sheep.

At one time San Luis Obispo had 80,000 head of grown cattle, 2,000 tame horses, 3,500 mares, 3,700 mules, and 72,000 sheep.

La Purissima, in 1830, had over 40,000 head of cattle, 300 yoke of working oxen, 2,600 tame horses, 4,000 mares, 30,000 sheep, and 5,000 swine.

Santa Inez, in 1820, owned $800,000 worth of property.

Santa Barbara, in 1828, had 40,000 head of cattle, 1,000 horses, 2,000 mares, 80 yoke of oxen, 600 mules and 20,000 sheep.

San Buenaventura, in 1825, owned 37,000 head of cattle, 600 riding horses, 1,300 mares, 200 yoke of working oxen, 500 mules, 30,000 sheep, 200 goats, 2,000 swine, orchards, vineyards, $35,000 in foreign goods, $27,000 in specie, with church ornaments and clothing valued at $61,000.

Direct experiments by Dunham, Hammond and others show that sleep in the brain is promoted by absence of blood therefrom. This is proved also indirectly, by the greater quantity of blood which circulates in the skin and extremities during sleep, because there is a greater radiation of heat from the skin. Whatever tends to abstract blood from the brain favors sleep, hence digestion tends to cause sleep, as do hot drinks, etc., by drawing the blood supply from the brain to the stomach. So, conversely, whatever tends to keep up the activity of the brain cells and the circulation, tends to prevent sleep; this being, therefore, the effect of any stimulus applied to the senses, sight, sound, thought, and anxiety and the like, while the opposite tends to favor sleep.

The peculiarity of the fly is that he always returns to the same spot; but it is the characteristic of the mosquito that he always returns to another spot. Thus he differs from the leopard, which does not change his spots. This is an important fact in natural history.

To make home-made camphor ice, melt half a teaspoonful of mutton tallow with a piece of camphor gum the size of a large hickory nut; pour into a little cup or mold.

John Welch has been confirmed as Minister to England. Another bombshell that refused to kill Hayes.

YOU DREAM TOO BIG FOR ME.—One day Sir William Johnson, the Indian agent in Mohawk county, under the Colonial Government, was unpacking some clothing bought from England. Hendrick, a famous Indian chief, was present, and took a strong fancy to an embroidered coat. He dare not ask for it, but next day he told Johnson a dream. "Last night," said he, "me dream you say, 'Hendrick you've been good friend, and now I reward you,' and you gave me the gold coat." The white man pondered a moment and then said, "You are right; the coat is yours." Not long afterward Johnson told Hendrick he had been dreaming. "And what did my white brother dream?" "That you took me by the hand and said, 'Sir William, you have been my friend, and I will show my love for you. I will give you all the land on the great river and Canada Creek.'" The Indian was amazed, for the tract was nearly a hundred thousand acres in extent, and very choice land. But he was not to be outdone in generosity, and finally replied: "My pale brother, the land is yours, but," added he after a long pause, "Sir William, we won't dream any more; you dream too big for me." The old chief's title was confirmed by the British Government, and the land was known as the Royal Grant.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, in and for the county of Washoe. The State of Nevada sends to Hill & Oakes, Anselmo Torrelli, Luigi Dellapiga, Albert Mau, G. W. Mapes and S. P. Sheldon, residing: all of you are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants, by A. D. Sison, W. W. Wallace and Clark Crocker, copartners, under name of Sison, Wallace & Co., as plaintiffs, in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein, within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service), if served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover $25,000, with interest, in U. S. gold coin, from defendants, Hill & Oakes, alleged to be due for lumber and material furnished them by the Reno Lumber Company, and to foreclose and determine a mechanics lien, claimed against lots one and two in block P, on the corner of Virginia and Second streets, in the town of Reno, county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and the frame building thereon. Plaintiffs allege an indebtedness of said defendants' lien to plaintiffs, that defendants Torrelli, Dellapiga, Mau, Mapes and Sheldon, have, or claim to have, some interest in said property and that the material furnished for the construction of the buildings aforesaid, and with the knowledge of the defendants last named, and their failure to give notice in writing by posting within three days after obtaining knowledge that they would not be responsible for such materials. Plaintiff prays judgment of foreclosure and for personal judgment against Hill & Oakes; all of which will more fully appear from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiffs will apply to the court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof, I, P. B. Comstock, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 25th day of July, A. D. 1877. P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk. Boardman & Varian Attys for Plffs. 11-7 1w3m

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

The Direct Railroad.

Mr. D. H. Jones, informs us that the survey for the direct railroad from here to Virginia City will be completed in about one week. More than one route between here and Steamboat, will be surveyed. After the survey the company will be organized. Our citizens must soon look forward to business when the books shall be opened, let your name shortly thereafter appear upon its pages. A direct road from here to Virginia City is what Reno wants. But if we want a railroad we must soon say so, and in a tangible way. It is not altogether trite to say that railroads cost money. If we desire this road, how much do we desire it? Full particulars will hereafter appear. But as the time for action is less than one month from date, it is well that some citizens should cast this matter over in their minds. If the road as it is promised will be ready for selling stock by June 1st, 1878. Work must commence at the earliest date and be vigorously prosecuted. A shrewd business man heads this assured enterprise, and he has solid backing. There will unquestionably be opposition to the road in question, if such opposition is not already in the field, but business is meant and if it require overt aid be men enough to stand by your clear interests. If we want a direct road to Reno, we must as citizens of the town and county, take stock amounting to perhaps $100,000. But as stated the more definite plans will appear in the future, and we only say this much that you may be the more ready when the time comes for action.

THE LYCEUM.—Remember the meeting this evening of the Congressional Lyceum at Justice Richardson's office. The House has 27 representatives. This evening the permanent organization of the society will be effected. Those interested will find a welcome. Now is the time to join. We anticipate that much pleasure and profit will be derived from the sittings of this body. What in our judgment however would be a source of greater profit and abiding interest, would be a literary society in which debates, essays, readings and music should form the principal features. If at any time a slim attendance, or from other cause the regular exercises should be interfered with, then those present might find profitable amusement in a mock sitting of the "Lower House," or in a mock trial. We do not proffer these suggestions, that we would in any way discourage the present move. On the contrary, the club to be organized will no doubt be such an one as those who constitute its active members shall derive therefrom much information and interesting enjoyment.

THE RACE.—We have not space or time for a full account of the match race to-day. Tom Morgan won in three straight heats. Time 2:37, 2:40, 2:37 1/4.

THE SOCIAL.—The Episcopal social last night was a success. An unusual number were present and everything passed off pleasantly. Dancing commenced about 9 o'clock and was kept up until 12. The next social will perhaps be held three weeks hence, but the place of holding it has not yet been appointed. An excellent feature of the social was the absence of grab-bags, post offices, and flower-stands. It was a social. Let us have more of the same kind.

The boys of "48" received their kindly remembrance this morning from Yerington, Bliss & Co. The boys fought the flames of that wood pile at Carson most nobly and have been handsomely rewarded.

OLD BACHELORS.—The subject of Rev. Mr. Gray's regular Sunday evening lecture at the Methodist Church is "Old Bachelors." These lectures will be continued every Sunday evening during the month of November. Subject for Sunday evening, the 18th, "Ghosts." For the 25th, "The Girl of the Period."

Mr. Yerington was so well pleased with the work done by 48's fire pump that yesterday he sent over for the full measurements and description of the old standby's pump, with the view of buying one like it for the V. & T. R. yard engine at Carson.

MARKET REPORT.

We find little change to report in either the S. F. or Home Market this week. Flour in the S. F. market is not in demand or in trade is termed soft. Wheat has dropped a few cents. Hides on account of light eastern demands have fallen. Fuel is cheaper than for years, coal in particular. Freight are low and will be for several months. Should the winter prove favorable the tone of the S. F. market will be much better.

The supply of money is large, but the circulation is not so free as could be desired. Bankers and capitalists are pursuing a cautious policy, and keep their reserves well in hand until it can be determined what kind of a season we are to have. The more common rates for loans are 9 to 10 per cent., both for call and term, but there is more or less business both above and below these figures.

In our home market wheat, oats and potatoes have gone down a few cents. Trade with most of our merchants has been dull. The farmers have sold but little of their produce. The continued depression of mining stocks has much to do with the closeness of money. Should the present reported strike in the Ophir send up that stock and carry others up with it, money would be easier and trade would grow better. The banks and capitalists are ready to invest limitedly in real estate, etc., but require the best of security.

All business must be conducted most economically, since business men can borrow but little money, as their business will not warrant the payment of high rates of interest. The effect of the continued tightness of the money market is to settle business into the more legitimate channels; to close out many of the small dealers, and require all to practice economy and develop every resource of supply.

Stocks are about the same as yesterday, except Ophir, which reached 43. Late assays give $120 to the ton in the late strike in Ophir. Many are confident that this stock will go to 75 or 100. Others who also hold shares are quiet and disposed to deal with caution. Be "careless."

The Eureka Sentinel, after discussing the necessity for Senator Sharon's presence in the Senate, asks, "Will Senator Sharon think of this, and at once order out his palace car, and with Ah Kye start for his post?" We should be as well satisfied if he sent Kye and staid home himself.

THE GREAT WALL OF CHINA.—The great wall of China was measured in many places by Mr. Unthank, an American engineer, lately engaged on a survey for a Chinese railway. His measurements gave the height at eight feet, and a width on top of fifteen feet. Every four hundred yards there is a tower twenty-four feet square and from twenty to forty-five feet high. The foundation of the wall is of solid granite. Mr. Unthank brought with him a brick from the wall, which is supposed to have been made two hundred years before the time of Christ. In building this immense stone fence to keep out the Tartars, the builders never attempted to avoid mountains or chasms to save expense. For one thousand three hundred miles the wall goes over plain and mountain, and every foot of the foundation is in solid granite, and the rest of the structure solid masonry. In some places the wall is built smooth up against the bank, or canons, or precipices, where there is a sheer descent of one thousand feet. Small streams are arched over, but in the larger stream the wall runs to the water's edge, and a tower is built on each side. On the top of the wall there are breastworks, or defenses, facing in and out, so the defending force can pass from one tower to another without being exposed to an enemy on either side. To calculate the time of building or cost of this wall is beyond human skill. So far as the magnitude of the work is concerned, it surpasses everything in ancient or modern times of which there is any trace. The pyramids of Egypt are nothing compared to it.—London News.

A police inspector being informed that a restaurant in his bailiwick was serving game out of season visits the restaurant in muff and orders dinner. "Waiter," says he, "can you give me a salmi of partridge?" "Settingly, sir," replies the waiter promptly, and yells to the cook, "Partridge for one." The inspector finishes his dinner leisurely and then says to the waiter, "Ask the boss to step this way a minute." "What for?" "I wish to notify him to appear in court to-morrow and answer for selling partridge out of season." "O, I guess it ain't worth while bothering him about that." "Do as I tell you. I am Police Inspector, and have secured the necessary evidence against him." "O, I spotted you and guessed what you were after. It wasn't partridge you had." Police Inspector (uneasily)—"What was it then?" Waiter (cheerfully)—"Crow."

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe,
The State of Nevada sends to Cora Gerula, Antonio Bova, and L. L. Loper, co-defendants doing business under the firm name and style of Cora Gerula & Co., greeting: You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendants by James Mayberry as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the date of this summons, or judgment by default will be taken against you on the service of this summons. If served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said district, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to recover a judgment against you, the defendants, for the sum of Three Thousand and Ninety-four and 36/100 Dollars ($3,094.36) gold coin of the United States, in favor of the plaintiff, said sum being a balance due the plaintiff on account for goods, wares and merchandise sold and delivered by plaintiff to defendants at their special instance and request, also for board of men (employees of defendants) and horse feed obtained by the special instance and request of defendants from plaintiff, said account commencing on or about the 1st day of October, A. D. 1875, and ending on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1876, the whole of said account amounting to the sum of $3,094.36, on which there was paid the sum of $2,000, leaving the sum of $1,094.36 balance due as aforesaid, and which said money fully appears from the complaint, which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court at Reno, in said county. And you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint, the said plaintiff will take judgment for the said amount, besides interest and costs of suit.

In testimony whereof, I, P. B. Comstock, Judge of said Court, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said court, this 31st day of August, A. D. 1877.

P. B. COMSTOCK, Clerk.

SO EXTENSIVELY WORKED IN PARIS,
it was first discovered in 1870, by the celebrated French chemist, M. D. De Dalgas, who manufactured it into jewelry, and for years sold it to the leading jewelers of Paris for Solid Gold. In 1875, when his secret became known, ten of the manufacturing jewelers established a stock company, with a capital of $10,000,000 for the purpose of manufacturing Romaine Gold Jewelry, and Watches. With this immense capital and the aid of improved machinery, they are enabled to produce all the latest patterns of Jewelry at less than one-tenth the cost of solid gold, and of a quality and color which make it impossible even for experts to detect it from the genuine.
